DEVOTED TO THE MORAL, BUSINESS AND POLITICAL INTERESTS OF CITY, COUNTY AND STATE.

GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, TUESDAY, JULY 5, 1904.

NO. 20

A JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

Grandest Time Gainesville Has Yet Witnessed.

GLORIOUS OLD TIME FOURTH

Largest Crowd That Ever Assembled Here—Only One Disorder.

Yesterday's Fourth of July celebration was the grandest affair of its kind that ever was witnessed in Gainesville.

Early in the morning people began to arrive in the city, and before 10 o'clock the streets were a moving sea of humanity. Every incoming train, on all of the railroads brought additional crowds, until by noon there were more people in Gainesville than ever here at any one time on a previous occasion.

The program previously published in the Star was carried out in an admirable manner, and for every one present there was something of interest.

At 8:30 a. m. the street parade by the Gainesville Silver Cornet Band was a magnificent treat, and set the people wondering if the best had not come first.

From 9:30 to 11:30 the attractions consisted of cake walks, sack races, climbing the greased pole, catching the greased pig, bicycle riding and taking rings from a hook foot racing, etc., and these sports furnished much amusement for all sorts, sizes, ages and conditions of spectators.

At 11:30 the great Russian Japanese naval battle began. The battle was fought with water, but the combatants went about it like they meant business and the fight was a desperate one, and resulted in a victory for the Japs.

At 12:30 the merchants carnival parade started, and was one of the most magnificent of its kind ever seen in this city. The floats and decorations were beautiful, and, in some instances costly.

At 2:30 Hon. Chris Matheson was introduced by Mayor Thomas, and delivered from the band stand a regular old-fashioned Fourth of July oration. Mr. Matheson, who was never known to make a poor speech, made one of his best on this occasion, and he had as his hearers perhaps the largest number of folks and gentlemen that ever listened to an oration from the band stand.

At 3:30 about 1,000 people assembled at the baseball park and witnessed an interesting game of ball by the Gainesville and Starke teams. The visitors were defeated by the home boys by a score of 4 to 10.

The crowd was not only the largest that ever assembled in Gainesville, but was perhaps the most orderly as well. There was only one disorder during the day, and that was at the baseball park during the progress of the ball game. Jerry Wills, of Starke is said to have raised a disturbance on the ball ground and drew a revolver, but was promptly taken charge of by Officers Fennell, Pinkson and others, and taken from the scene of the disturbance. He returned, however, in a few minutes, but no other trouble occurred. We are told that Wills is a deputy sheriff in his county, and as such claimed the privilege of carrying the revolver. It is to be regretted exceedingly that this affair occurred, as it alone prevented the day being one of perfect peace and harmony.

It should be remembered that Gainesville is a dry town, and no one can doubt that this fact accounts for the excellent order that prevailed here yesterday.

We are sorry that we can not give a more perfect and extended account of the celebration in today's paper, but time lost from work yesterday renders it impossible for us to do so now, but in our next issue we will have something more to say, and will publish a list of those who won prizes.

We feel, however, that it would not be just right not to say at this time that our merchants and other business men acted nobly in the matter of getting up the grand celebration, and to Hon. W. G. Robinson, president of the Board of Trade, is due especial praise for his untiring effort to make the occasion a grand success.

High Springs to Celebrate.

We have been requested to announce that High Springs will be the scene of the greatest barbecue and celebration of the year, on Labor Day—Sept. 5.

Those who have the matter in hand assure us that High Springs will be prepared to take care of all who attend the celebration, so none need be afraid of going away hungry.

Hon. Napoleon B. Broward, Jno. N. C. Stockton, J. M. Barrs, two prominent labor speakers (whose names we did not learn) and probably other prominent speakers will be on hand and deliver addresses.

The affair will be under the auspices of the High Springs labor unions, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

A NOBLE WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. W. B. Phifer Died Yesterday—Funeral This Afternoon.

Florence Houston was born in Union County, North Carolina July 24th., 1870, and died in Gainesville July 4th., 1904, aged 34 years and 20 days. Her parents moved to Monroe when Florence was a small child. There she grew up into beautiful womanhood. She was educated at Greensboro, North Carolina, and while a student in college became a member of the Methodist church. She and Mr. W. B. Phifer were most happily married Sept. 10th., 1890 and came to Florida and made their home at Rochelle, until they came to Gainesville about 4 years ago. Of the deceased's own immediate family, she leaves a mother, sister and brother, and four children, and a devoted husband to mourn her departure.

Mrs. Phifer was a most excellent woman, one of the best in our city. Those who knew her most intimately prized her most highly. It is not every community that is blessed with a character so rare as hers. She was one of the queens of earth whose life and character entitled her to a crown of enduring beauty and glory. Highly educated, refined, loving and loyal, intellectual and religious, she presented a beautiful combination of rare elements of character that one seldom sees.

As a mother she was one of the best. Her children received a mother's welcome and a mother's hand, and thoughtful attention. She believed that a mother could not turn over the rearing of children to others while she passed her time in fashionable living. The world needs more mothers of her type.

Her Christian life was regular, true, and pure. She lived as a follower of her Master should. Her religious convictions gave color to her entire life. She did not make religion a cloak of seeming respectability, but it was a first principle, and controlling power in her life. The church of which she was a member will miss her effective service which she so gladly and cheerfully rendered.

Gainesville has lost a gifted woman; the church, a godly member; her husband, a loving, devoted wife; her children, a true mother; her family, a loving sister, and her friends, a trusted and high minded associate.

The sympathy of the entire community will be generally given to the bereaved relatives of the deceased.

The funeral will be held from Kavanagh Methodist church this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and will be conducted by Rev. W. J. Carpenter. The interment will be in the Evergreen Cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. BUNCH.

Died at the Odd Fellows Sanitarium Sunday Afternoon.

After a painful illness, which medical skill and a surgical operation failed to relieve, Mrs. J. M. Bunch, of Dutton, died in the Odd Fellows Sanitarium in this city Sunday afternoon.

The body was embalmed by Undertaker McClellan, and shipped to Bayard, near Jacksonville, for burial.

Deceased leaves to mourn her demise a grief-stricken husband, three small children, and other relatives and friends, to all of whom the Star extends sympathy in this hour of sore bereavement.

THAT HOLLEY HOBSON AFFAIR

Rev. Holley Presents Himself to Gainesville Church.

MINISTERS' COUNCIL CALLED.

Twenty-Five Baptist Ministers to Be Here Next Tuesday.

Rev. J. B. Holley, one of the editors and proprietors of the Southern Baptist Witness, who, it will be remembered by our readers was rather summarily expelled from membership in the Jacksonville Baptist church last Wednesday night, presented himself for membership in the First Baptist church, this city, last Sunday morning. Pastor Rogers explained to the church the humiliating circumstances under which Mr. Holley came, and the embarrassing position the affair had put the Gainesville church in, and suggested that the church call a council of twenty-four prominent Baptist ministers of the State to meet in Gainesville on Tuesday, July 12, and thoroughly investigate the charge against Rev. Holley, the action of the Jacksonville Baptist church in dealing with the matter, etc. The pastor's suggestion was accepted, and by a unanimous vote of the church it was decided to call the council of ministers to investigate the matter. Rev. Holley and this church will be governed by the finding and recommendation of the council.

The circumstances of the trouble between Rev. Holley and his partner in the newspaper business—Rev. W. A. Hobson—were fresh in the minds of our readers, and need not be re-related here. Suffice it to say that after business differences had caused the two editors to fall out and come to blows, Holley did all that is required of any offender to make friends with and secure the forgiveness of Hobson, and Hobson absolutely refused to accept his apologies, and to us it does seem that the Jacksonville church acted hastily when it withdrew fellowship from Mr. Holley.

The public in general, and the Baptist denomination in particular will look forward with much interest to the meeting and decision of the council of Baptist ministers here next Tuesday, and every Christian—whether a Baptist or of some other denomination—will wish for a settling of the difficulty in the way that is so plainly set forth in the Bible by the great head of the Christian church.

John Adams' Opinion of Washington

After dinner one night a visitor stepped into the hall to help Adams put on his coat. Adams thanked him. "Don't mention it," was the solemnest reply. "No attention is too great, no trouble is too much that we of this century have the pleasure of taking for the patriots of the Revolution—George Washington and yourself, sir." Adams' sharp retort was: "Don't mention Washington to me, sir! Washington was a doll!"—Sanborn's "Reminiscences of Emerson."

Montreal's Cathedral.

The great landmark in Montreal is the Cathedral of Notre Dame, which, next to the famous cathedral in the City of Mexico, is the largest church building in America and has a seating capacity of 12,000. The church was built in 1829 and is noted for its magnificent chimes, one of the bells of which, called "Le Gros Bourdon," is one of the largest suspended bells in the world and weighs 24,780 pounds.—Four Track News.

The Apostles in Society.

To ape anything is a sign of vacuity of mind; to ape the follies of those above you is one of the most offensive forms of vulgarity. Yet we see the follies of the uppermost classes steadily imitated all down the different sets of society, and the popularity of every book dealing with the peccage is a proof, if one were needed, of what absorbing interest our fallings are to the public. There is nothing we will not write upon to gratify this vulgar curiosity; nothing is too bad taste if by its publication we can raise a little of the "needful." Our scandals, our intrigues, our insane conversation, our bills and even our menus are recorded for the benefit of a public which, while professing to be horrified, greedily cries for more.—A Countess in London Outlook.

Tobacco For Wives.

In the early history of Virginia and Maryland tobacco was by all odds the most important crop, and it was even possible at times to secure a wife in exchange for a moderate amount of tobacco, as in later days in the west a squaw could be obtained in exchange for a small amount of whisky. In 1732 at Jamestown tobacco was made a legal tender for all debts, including customs. In about a dozen years after the founding of Jamestown by Captain John Smith, brought over with a ship load of supplies ninety young English maids, who immediately upon their arrival were wooed and married by the colonists, each being paid for at the rate of "120 pounds of good tobacco."

Very Absent Minded.

"Talk about absent mindedness," said a man the other day, "why, I like it, for when I was a boy I worked for a man who was so absent minded that he discharged me three times in one week and paid me a week's wages each time."
